Arson Suspected In Canyon Fire

By RONALD BURTON
United Press International

MALIBU, Calif. (UPI) — More than 1,500 firefighters today desperately fought a raging fire in the Santa Monica Mountains which blanketed over 15,000 acres, destroyed upwards of 40 homes and injured nine firemen in its 12-hour fight.

Damage to property and watershed was estimated in the millions of dollars.

More than 2,000 residents of this under-dry canyon area spotted with fashionable homes of movie and television stars were forced to flee in the face of 50-foot high walls of flame pushed along by wind gusts up to 60 miles an hour.

The fire perimeter estimated at between 30 to 40 miles lapped over into the scorched area of the disastrous 1956 Malibu fire which burned 45,000 acres and destroyed 67 homes.

The blaze was headed northwest and it was feared it would burn into Ventura County today.

Investigate Possible Arson
Fire Chief Keith Klinger said, "It may be worse than the Malibu fire of '56."

The possibility of arson was being investigated.

The $50,000 ranch home of actor Lew Ayres containing many expensive art objects was wiped out by the towering flames which exploded rocks like hand grenades, Ronald Reagan's ranch along with comedian Bob Hope's was hit by the blaze but their homes were saved.

Aiding the fire were record-high temperatures in the 80s and 90s throughout the area and low humidity down to 8 per cent.

Los Angeles, about 35 miles east of here, had its warmest day in 18 years Tuesday when the thermometer hit 85 degrees in the downtown area.

The roaring blaze sending up a plume of black smoke 15,000 feet into the air swept the exclusive Malibu Lake area, destroying six homes in the $40,000 to $50,000 class.

Animals Seek Safety
Hundreds of deer, rabbits and other wild life were driven from the fire area. At least 100 head of cattle were killed.

Movie sets on the 20th-Century Fox ranch were saved but the fire flashed through most of the area where such films as "South Pacific" and "The FBI Story" were made.

A heavy guard of 100 sheriff's deputies was sent into the area to protect evacuated homes from looting.

Two fire rigs were destroyed by flames when firemen suddenly found themselves surrounded by the raging inferno and had to desert their equipment to save their own lives.

Several men have been questioned and then released as the Fire Department investigated the cause of the blaze which might have been deliberately set.

Fire broke out at 10:35 a.m. Tuesday at Mulholland Drive and Las Virgenes and soon joined another blaze which broke out nearby.

Closing Of Two Doors May Have Reduced Deaths

By ROBERT T. LOUGHRAN
United Press International

CHICAGO (UPI) — Fire experts speculated today that had two massive wooden doors been closed in Our Lady of Angels school when fire broke out Monday considerably less than 90 persons might have died.

Two investigators of the National Fire Protection Association said that if two doors at the second floor landing had been closed the intense fire and hot gases would have been kept out for precious minutes and "in all likelihood every classroom could have been emptied in time."

Chicago Fire Commissioner Robert J. Quinn said that "all you need is one inhalation of that superheated air the fire pushes in front of it and your lungs collapse."

Meanwhile offers of aid poured in today to the injured and grieving while the investigation into the cause of the holocaust ground slowly forward.

Third Worst Disaster
Police arson experts theorized a pupil sneaking a cigarette in the school basement may have accidentally touched off Chicago's worst fire in 55 years and the nation's third most tragic school fire.

Authorities resumed questioning pupils and nuns in home they could shed some light on the mystery, but the painstaking investigation "turned up nothing new," according to police Capt. Harry Penzin.

About 20 teen-aged boys were questioned Tuesday by police who urged them to obey their religious beliefs and tell truthfully whether one them had flipped a lit cigarette in trash behind a basement stairwell.

Authorities have determined the blaze started in the stairwell at the northeast corner of the two-story brick school. The flames and dense smoke were sucked up the stairwell to the second floor where most of the victims were trapped and died.

Question School Janitor

Police Tuesday night questioned school janitor James Raymond, 43, who was hospitalized with shock and injuries Raymond told detectives he was entering the school when he saw smoke pouring from the rear of the building.

Raymond said he rushed to the basement and checked the incinerator and boiler, but found nothing wrong. He then told authorities he ran to the first floor and broke windows so the children could escape.

Penzin said Raymond also insisted that he had checked the stairway where the fire apparently started last Thursday and found it clean of trash.

Percey Buebee, general manager of the NEPA, said in Boston that the experts had found that the doors were left open allowing fire and gases to spread rapidly through the second-floor corridor serving six classrooms. Nearly all of the children were in these six rooms.

Three Bodies Identified
Buebee said it was significant in the report that the fire did not enter the first floor because the fire door was closed there.

In other developments: —Only three charred bodies remained unidentified at the county morgue. The four others were missing. Authorities were unable to identify them.

Humphrey Talks With Khrushchev

By COLETTE BLACKMORE
United Press International

MOSCOW (UPI) — Sen. Hubert Humphrey D-Minn., who had an eight-hour talk with Premier Nikita Khrushchev Monday, said today the Soviet leader is a "very well-informed man" who "undoubtedly looks upon himself as a policy-maker and not an administrator."

Humphrey, who was summoned to Khrushchev's office on a few minutes' notice, said he found the Soviet premier to be "abroad of just about everything, including the situation in Geneva."

When he was asked how Khrushchev is able to run his country and at the same time keep up with a wide variety of foreign matters including relatively minor U.S. domestic happenings, the senator said:

"Khrushchev has about five buttons in his desk which he probably uses often. He undoubtedly looks upon himself as a policy-maker and not an administrator."

During their talk, the two men sat at the end of a 25-foot desk in Khrushchev's stony office. Decorations included a portrait of Lenin, a model plane and a large plastic container holding several ears of hybrid Iowa corn.

Humphrey said they served a sumptuous meal at about 7:30 p.m. without vodka or wine.

Through an interpreter, the two men discussed the Berlin situation, foreign trade, religious, communist philosophy and other topics. Humphrey expressed "enthusiasm" for the plan of a plan expanded U.S.-Russian cooperation in medical research.

The senator declined comment on other matters discussed at the meeting, saying that he prefers to "begin with areas of agreement rather than discord."

He appeared pleased, however, when he emerged from the talks.

CANNED ALARM CLOCK

WINSTED, Conn. — (UPI) — The latest item for supermarket shelves is a canned alarm clock. Manufactured by the Gilbert Clock Co., here, it is packed in hermetically sealed tins resembling coffee containers, retails for $2.99 and carries a one-year guarantee.

The clocks are designed to reach consumers "factory fresh," since the airtight container prevents corrosion of the movement and drying out of lubricating oils.

NO ARREST

No arrests were reported by city police over the past two days. City Judge Jake Dunn reported that everything was very quiet and that no arrests had been made.

The sheriff's office reported no action also.

LETTER TO EDITOR

Dear Editor

Again, we come to our patrons asking your co-operation in the matter of mailing your Xmas Cards. All unsealed cards, with no writing, other than your signature may be mailed for 3¢.

Where there is any writing or sealed they require 4¢ postage. No matter whether or not they are sealed or unsealed they still require 4¢ postage.

You must also address your cards or letters giving street address and house number for city, and rural route number where they go to the country.

You have been very co-operative in sorting your letters and cards before they are dropped in for mailing. All city, rural and town cards, please, go in the upper right hand drop. The lower right hand drop are for out of town cards and letters. You will find rubber bands and markers for your mail on the desk in the lobby. By your co-operation in sorting your mail, you help in expediting the mail, and we get your mail out of the office and on its way quicker.

You realize that we will have extra help during the holidays and they are not well acquainted with the set-up in the delivery, special delivery, place them in the upper right hand drop. We always pick-up air mail and special delivery just before we make the last tie out for any specific mailing.

Make your mailings as early in the day as possible, as this gives us a better opportunity of getting out your mail on the same day as mailing. If everybody persists in mailing your cards and letters late in the afternoon, you can readily understand why we can't get it all ready for that day's dispatch.

Mail your packages as soon as possible, not waiting until the last week to mail, as more especially where your parcels go through a terminal, the terminals will be swamped, and they can't possibly work it out for days. Wrap your parcels securely, pack them well to keep down breakage.

Buy your stamps early, as the Post Office won't have a special reduced price on stamps, and they won't cost you anymore by buying early.

The personnel of this office joins me in thanking you for your co-operation in the past in following out some of our suggestions.

Be sure that you put enough postage on your letters and Xmas cards; otherwise we will have to rate up the postage, and pay on the delivery end.

Remember that our window hours, both for mailing and money order are from 7:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Thanks,
Harry I. Sledz

New Satellite Program To Begin On West Coast

Five Ton Moon May Be Placed Into Orbit

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The

Pentagon announced today that a program of earth satellite launching that may put a five-ton man-made moon in orbit will begin on the West Coast in about 30 days.

The first satellite vehicle will be launched late this month or early in January from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California. It will weigh 1,300 pounds. Present American satellites do not weigh more than 32 pounds.

Roy W. Johnson, director of the Pentagon's space agency, said the satellite launchings from Vandenberg may be expected at a rate of about once a month in 1959.

He said the program has been designated "Project Discoverer," and that its main purpose is to develop "useful information" for putting a manned vehicle into orbit around the earth.

All of the West Coast launchings will be aimed toward the South Pole. Johnson said the program will include putting animals into orbit and returning them safely to earth.

Using Thor Missile
The space director said the first launching will be conducted with the Air Force's 1,500 mile Thor intermediate range missile, plus a second stage. He said he also expects the 5,500 mile Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile to be used in the program during 1959.

Johnson said that with the Atlas, plus a high energy upper stage under development, the U.S. expects a satellite weighing as much as 10,000 pounds (five tons) can be put in orbit. Russia's Sputnik III by comparison, weighs a ton and a half.

Johnson emphasized that the initial launchings from the West Coast will be experimental, that the satellite vehicles will be fired into "relatively low orbits of a few hundred miles in altitude," and that they are "designed to orbit for short periods of time."

He said present plans do not include putting a man into orbit in 1959.

Johnson said the animals being prepared for orbit include mice and "primates," presumably monkeys.

The "Project Discoverer" is closely related to the "sentry" program for putting up a reconnaissance satellite with a television eye that could scan the entire earth to detect movements of troops, ships and planes, and possibly warn of missile launchings.

Orbits Over Poles
Johnson said experiments valuable to the Sentry program will be conducted. He said, however, the U. S. is not ready to launch an "operational" reconnaissance satellite and refused to estimate when this can be done.

He said that "for the time being" all West Coast launchings will be into orbits passing over the South and North Poles, because "you can't fly to the east over populated areas and you take a terrific weight penalty if you fire to the west against the rotation of the earth."

Johnson said many satellite launchings will be conducted from Cape Canaveral, Fla., as in the past. The Vandenberg range on the West Coast, where the Defense Department has spent 10 million dollars in the last 12 months, is just being opened.

Cullivan Signs Moseley For Murray

Murray State College football coach Jim Cullivan, signed up a Grove High School football star when he was in Paris over the holidays.

Billy Moseley, the Grove Blue Devils' All-Volunteer-Conference halfback signed an athletic scholarship with Murray State. He is the leading Grove ground gainer and is third leading scorer in West Tennessee with 93 points. He has earned three football letters at Grove.

Moseley will become the first Paris player at Murray since the graduation last year of tackle J. D. Burdin. "We are glad to sign a boy from Grove due to the fact that it is my home town," Cullivan remarked, "and Grove has produced many college prospects recently."

Cullivan said he had been impressed with Moseley's playing. "Some college coaches may be hesitant to go with Moseley," he said of Bill's small but solid (5-7, 160-pound) frame. "But we feel fortunate to have him accept our scholarship offer."

Grove mentor Andy Settles said that "We are very happy when any of our boys have an done a fine job for us. We are opportunity to further their education to note that we have 12 citations through the use of athletic scholarships. Moseley has on football athletic scholarships."

Army Ready For Moon Shot

almost ready today to send its first moon rocket hurtling into unexplored space in vital radiation-measuring mission.

The 140-foot-tall service tower of the Army's moon bird moved back from the rocket Tuesday, exposing a vehicle that bore a striking resemblance to the Jupiter-C rockets that put three satellites into orbit in six tries.

Although there has been an official announcement, the Army is expected to fire the tall Juno II rocket some time this week-end.

The Army's moon vehicle appeared fully assembled when it was revealed Tuesday. And, since the Army always test fires the engines at its missile headquarters in Huntsville, Ala., prior to launching them here, it appeared that only final checks were necessary prior to firing.

Dr. Werner von Braun, German-born Army missile chief, has said the Army will aim its rocket at the moon. But he said that because of the lack of an adequate guidance system, the Juno II probably will miss the moon and eventually become a satellite of the sun, millions of miles away.

No Question Of Deer Ownership

J. C. Maupin exhibited more sportsmanship than earlier reports had indicated when he bagged a deer on the opening day of the gun season.

Former reports had seemed to indicate that there was a question over ownership of the deer as a result of Maupin and a 55-year old Henderson hunter's having fired simultaneously.

Actually J. C. states that the deer was coming directly toward him and his first shot broke the deer's back but before it could fall to the ground the Henderson man fired from off the deer's side striking the buck in the flank.

There was no question of ownership involved but Maupin very sportsmanlike offered to give the Henderson man half of the deer as it was the hunter's last day.

Tackle Firm Commends L&T For Publicity

For several years now the daily Ledger & Times has sponsored a "Fishing Contest" for the anglers of Murray and Calloway County. Ever since the contest was originated by the daily paper it has enjoyed tremendous success and this past summer the contest met with unprecedented approval.

In addition to the anglers that received a great host of prizes for their fine catches, the contest has drawn praise from tackle manufacturers and sportsmen everywhere.

One of the recent letters, the sports staff received was a letter from the Rockland Tackle Company of Suffern, New York. The Rockland Company specializes in ultralight spinning tackle. The letter written by C. A. Wallant, Rockland Sales Manager, attributes the great increase of interest in Rockland Tackle in this area to the publicity given it by the daily Ledger & Times which is widely circulated throughout Calloway and adjoining counties. Mr. Wallant's letter follows:

Mr. Jim Harmon, Outdoor Editor
The Ledger & Times
103 N. 4th Street
Murray, Ky.

Dear Mr. Harmon:
You must consider us ungrateful for not writing you sooner to express our thanks for the publicity you gave us while back on ultralight spinning with Rockland tackle.

Actually, our failure to write was partly your fault. With your help, UL spinning enjoyed a tremendous sport in popularity last season. As a result, we spent most of our time frantically trying to keep our dealers supplied, or telling them why we couldn't send them all the UL tackle they wanted.

So we never got around to writing letters of thanks for the help our friends have given us. But we're in good shape for next season now. We've got full stocks of everything you readers will need for UL spinning—and some new items besides. These include the famous "Mignon 33" reel in both manual and left-hand retrieve models, plus a larger model of the style "Rocky" joined plugs, which we call the "Rocky Jr." It is 1 1/2 inches long, weighs 1 1/2 ounces and can be used for either standard or UL spinning.

Full details will come along later. Right now, we want to thank you, with all sincerity, for helping us to develop ultralight spinning. Your publicity really touched off a lot of interest in your area.

Yours sincerely,
Rockland Tackle Co. Inc.

The Mountaineers encountered stubborn opposition from VMI and didn't break away from a 70-70 tie until the final three minutes. Chuck Cotton scored 30 points for VMI but they weren't enough to stop West Virginia from chalking up its 38th consecutive Southern Conference triumph.

Toastmistress Club Met Monday At Club House

The Murray Toastmistress club met Monday at 6 p.m. in the Woman's Club House with Betty Lowery presiding. Sadie Nell Jones gave the invocation and Neva Gray Albritten led the pledge to the flag in the opening events before the dinner.

In the business meeting, Sadie Nell Jones, nominating chairman, read the state of officers—Rosella Outland, president; Elana Larson, vice president; and Dorothy Irvan, secretary; and Dorothy Irvan, treasurer. The slate was accepted and the new officers will be installed the first meeting in January, that date being fourth Monday night at 8 o'clock.

Using the subject, which is the most important to the community—the Murray Manufacturing Plant or Murray State College, Dorothy Irvan, toastmistress, introduced Desiree Hosick and Neva Gray Langston to give their point of view on the debatable subject. In the 2 minutes given them, no conclusion was reached.

Neva Gray Albritten, toastmistress introduced the speakers of the evening—Lois Sparks and Joe Nell Rayburn who each used their four minutes to tell interesting data concerning their lives before coming to Murray. Both are native Kentuckians coming from west-central part, both taught in rural schools—then moved into city schools before coming to the Murray School System. Mrs. Sparks teaches English in Murray High School and Mrs. Rayburn teaches in the grades in the Training School.

Rosella Outland was lexicologist and demonstrated many meanings of the words, little and raw—and tricked the club members into guessing the number of times the two words were used in the Bible.

Desiree Hosick evaluated the entire meeting giving constructive criticism to each event. Sadie Nell Jones was parliamentarian and Lucie Hart, member, Eula Mae Doherty read the minutes and Neva Gray Albritten gave the report of the treasurer.

Mrs. Anita Stubbs, field director of the health department, Hickman, was a guest.

Miss Sharon Louise Wilkins Becomes Bride of Robert Lee Street On Thanksgiving Day

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT LEE STREET

Miss Sharon Louise Wilkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roe Wilkins, Lone Oak, became the bride of Robert Lee Street, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Street, Deerfield Beach, Florida, Thanksgiving Day, November 27 at four p.m.

The double ring ceremony was performed in the Lone Oak Methodist church by the Rev. William G. Adams.

White flowers and greenery decorated the chancel, illuminated by burning tapers in candelabras.

Preceding the ceremony a program of nuptial music was presented by the organist, Mrs. Louise Wickliffe. Selections played were "I Love You Truly," "Because," "O Promise Me," "Until," and "Always." During the ceremony, Mrs. Wickliffe played "The Lord's Prayer." The traditional wedding marches were used.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white imported Chantilly lace and silk illusion over tulle and bridal satin. The fitted bodice featured a Sabrina neckline and long tapering sleeves that came to points over the wrists. The full lace skirt, edged in pleated illusion ruffles, fell away at the front to reveal tiered ruffles of altering lace and pleated illusion. The lace overskirt extended into a full ethereal train. Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls. The bride carried an heirloom lace handkerchief together with a white Bible topped with a white Castella orchid and showered with satin streamers tied at the ends with love knots.

Miss Patsy Nadine Wilkins, cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. She was attired in a peacock blue tulle fallie dress, with matching shell hat and accessories. Her flowers were a cascade bouquet of pale yellow carnations and asters.

Bob Kik, Louisville, served the groom as best man. Ushers were Cleatus Cagle of Murray, and Mrs. Bob Overbey, Patsy Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. Roe Wilkins, John Neal Wilkins and the hosts.

Present were Miss Wilkins, Mr. Street, Bob Kik, Rev. Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Overbey, Patsy Wilkins, Mr. and Mrs. Roe Wilkins, John Neal Wilkins and the hosts.

Dinner Party

able, and Bob Overbey of Lexington.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Wilkins wore a royal blue embroidered crepe frock with matching hat and accessories. The mother of the groom, Mrs. Street was attired in a beige lace dress designed with a bustle back with which she wore a peacock feathered hat and matching accessories. Both mothers wore corsages of American Beauty roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church dining room. Mrs. Cleatus Cagle, the groom's sister kept the register. Serving at the reception were Misses Barbara Walker, Elizabeth Webb and Jenny Evans all of Murray.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wilkins and family; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bohannon and family of Browers; Earl L. Webb of Arlington; Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stewart and family of Chicago, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Overbey of Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hodges and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hargis of Murray.

After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Street, left for an unannounced wedding trip. For traveling, Mrs. Street wore a moss green and turquoise tweed sheath dress with moss green accessories and a white feathered hat. At her shoulder was pinned the white orchid from her bouquet.

Mrs. Street is a graduate of Lone Oak High school and is now a senior at Murray State College where she is a member of Kappa Pi Honorary Fraternity.

The force, produced by the Theatre Guild in association with Manuel D. Herbert, was adapted for the stage by Joseph Fields and Peter DeVries from best-selling novel, and ran a year on Broadway.

Bracken, in addition to his long-run appearance on tour and in New York in "Seven Year Itch," has also starred in numerous films, among them: "Miracle at Morgans Creek," "Happy Go Lucky," "Summer Stock," "Hail the Conquering Hero," and some 40-odd others.

Other actors to be featured with Bracken in the Paducah performance will be Ellen Clark, Gerald Metcalfe, Joan Watson, Louise Hoff and Eliza Walden. Tickets for the single performance are now available at the Columbia box office, all seats are reserved, admission main floor $2.75 balcony $2.25. The Chicago archdiocese announced that Archbishop Albert George Meyer will officiate at mass funeral services for the dead children Friday in a National Guard armory. The victims, aged 9 to 15, will be buried tomorrow.

The story is set in Westport, Connecticut, where converted New York bohemians dot the rural landscape. Author DeVries, a long-time resident of Westport, put the microscope on his neighbors with such burning wit that it brought playwright Joseph Fields to attention. Oscar Robertson Makes UC Top Choice For National Champions

NEW YORK (UPI) — The State, Washington, West Virginia, University of Cincinnati, with the envy of every college basketball coach in All-American Oscar Robertson, was the clear-cut choice of the United Press International Board of Coaches today to wind up the 1958-59 season as national champion.

Twenty-three of the 35 outstanding coaches who will rate the teams weekly for UPI made Coach George Smith's Bearcats their No. 1 pick to wind up on top this season. Cincinnati finished second to West Virginia in final 1957-58 ratings following a 24-2 regular season during which they won the Missouri Valley Conference championship.

Kansas State, which defeated Cincinnati, 83-80, last season in the second round of the NCAA tournament, was picked second in this year's pre-season lineup of the coaches. Notre Dame was the No. 3 choice, while Kentucky, the defending NCAA champion, was fourth. Rounding out the top 10 in order were Michigan
